"But from now on the Son of Man shall be seated at the right hand of the power of God."

Luke 22:69

READ THE WORD

·Read Luke 22:47–71 in the translation you typically read or study. Then, reread Luke 22:47–71 at least two more times in different translations throughout the week.
·Bonus Reading: Proverbs 16:18 and Hebrews 12:1–4

STUDY THE WORD

Pray and ask God to supernaturally help you retain what you have read through and learned as you answer the following questions:

1. When Judas betrayed Jesus with a kiss, how does Jesus' respond? What is the meaning of a kiss in this context?
2. Compare verse 33 to verse 61. What names of Christ are given? What does this reveal about Jesus?
3. Jesus was held in custody, mocked, and beaten; what did His accusers ask Jesus to do? Why was this significant?
4. What does Jesus mean when He says, "From now on, the Son of Man shall be seated at the right hand of the power of God?" What does this foretell?
5. Jesus didn't say He was the Son of God in verse 70? Instead He turned the answer back on them by saying, "You say that I am?" What does His response tell us?

DISCUSSION QUESTIONS

1. Have you ever been betrayed by someone you loved? How hard would it be to respond like Jesus responded to Judas? Discuss.
2. Have you ever seen someone publicly mocked or (heaven forbid) beaten? Describe the feelings you experienced. How do you feel now knowing this happened to our Savior?
